Obviously, the restaurant is brand new (literal paint drying on the wall), but the view of the Biscayne Bay, combined with some eyeball-popping wines (seriously, our bottles were $130 EACH), this spot is going to light up Miami. Given it's location nearby Miami Shores, Biscayne Park, and El Portal, combined with the traffic of 79th street causeway, this should become a staple quickly. Italian fare, combined with amazing taste makes this a great spot to try out.

We were excited to try out Antica Mare and were so pleased at the friendly service. The owner greeted us warmly. Our server, Alberto, was an Italian native and a joy. The food was ok and a bit pricey, but nothing extravagant. I'm sure they are still working out kinks since they are so new, but we'll be back for sure.

Incredible food in a beautiful setting. Marco, the owner, helped us choose our dishes and nothing was below a 10/10. The tuna with truffles appetizer was to die for and so was the seabass. I cannot wait to go back and try more dishes off the menu.

On two separate occasions (once just the two of us, and again with a party of twelve), everything was exceptional: quality and taste of food, service, and ambiance. We couldn't have been more pleased.

Every staff member was very nice, but the older gentleman (server) was simply charming.

Wow!!!!!! I'm a vip open table member who very rarely is impressed with new restaurants. But this is the best Italian rest I've eaten at the past 5 years. I've eaten all through Italy, nyc, and Miami and this rest by far stands out among all the rest. It's a beautiful rest but most importantly the ingredients and the tastes of the cuisine were superb! The staff and service treat you like family. I live 30 min from this rest, but will be there at least once a week!!!!
